So... is this why we havent heard anything new about the site for almost a month?

Damn you, B&C!

no, that's because my life sucks at the moment. :) I won't let you guys down, just give me a bit of time. when I finish the contest entries, I'll make another advertising blitz on the B&C and other forums, hopefully bringing in more people for you guys to molest. :)

Also, because I'm kinda unhappy about how the site looks atm, but I have no idea what to do to change it. Any of you guys happn to be a professional web designer? :whistle:
